The Moving Pathways Forward

project, a collaborative effort between the South Branch Career & Technical Center, Eastern WV Community & Technical College and WV Adult Education, is designed to support adults who want to continue their education and/or find a good career. The program provides a bridge from the career pathways class to college, technical education or a career.

What the Program Provides

- Intensive instruction in foundation skills in the context of health care
- Opportunity to take the high school equivalency test if needed
- Financial aid guidance
- Small class size
- Student success services
- Career guidance and counseling
- Resume building
- Job searching

New Skills for a GOOD Job

Moving Pathways Forward provides an opportunity for adults to gain new skills for a good job. With education and credentials beyond high school, adults have better options in today's economy.

MOVING PATHWAYS FORWARD: THE RIGHT FIT FOR YOU!

Moving Pathways Forward serves adults with families and people who haven't been in school for years. Even if you didn't finish high school or complete your high school equivalency, you can find a path for success in today's workplace

High School Equivalency and Adult Education

Gain the skills you need to get a good job in health care. Moving Pathways Forward helps students improve basic skills in the reading, math, and writing they need to prepare for the high school equivalency, college entrance exams, or work in the health care field.

Move more quickly into post-secondary programs such as nursing, medical assistant, healthcare aide, pharmacy tech., phlebotomy, EKG tech, CNA, and medical billing and coding.
